BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

Prospectus for Admission.

THIS School is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors: it owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The School was formally opened on the 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60, of whom only 15 can be other than Biharis by race (viz., natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar); but should the number of suitable applicants who are Biharis by race be insufficient to fill up the 45 vacancies, then the vacancies thus occurring can be given to those applicants who are natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar, in that order.

3. The School, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

(1) A sound study of Elementary Mathematics.

(2) Careful training in Survey work.

(3) Drawing, both Freehand and Engineering.

(4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings.

(5) Workshop practice, with hand tools and with machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings have now been completed; and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this School, who must be a Bihari by race.

4. The session commenced on 2nd July 1901.

5. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re. 1-8. All scholarship-holders, however, receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs. 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent. of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, must be Biharis by race or domicile, or natives of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below :—

(1) The Entrance Examination of an Indian University, in English and Mathematics.

(2) Standard VII of the Code of European Schools.

(3) Students who have not passed either of these tests, and who are otherwise eligible, will have to pass an examination in English and Mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 8th and 9th July, respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal at once. Their application must give the following particulars:—

(a) Name, address, and occupation of father or guardian.

(b) Race and religion, and evidence to show that he is either a Bihari or a native of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, or a domiciled Bengali.

(c) A certificate of good moral character.

(f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal.

8. There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Re. 1. An Amin student is taught Elementary Surveying with a corresponding amount of Mathematics and of Geometrical Drawing. He will not be admitted to the Workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department, who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of Elementary Surveying, and the other subjects taught in the Amin class, may, at his option, leave the school with an Amin certificate.

9. Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the session that commences 2nd July 1901, unless application for admission is made before 15th July 1901.

10. Every candidate for admission to the School must bring a certificate of good character from the Head of the Institution from which he has come.

HARA PRASAD SHASTRI,
Principal, Sanskrit College, and Registrar, Sanskrit Examinations.

CIVIL ENGINEERING COLLEGE, SIBPUR.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

HIGHER AGRICULTURAL CLASS, SESSION 1901-1902.

Rules for Admission.

FOR admission to the Higher Agricultural Class, an applicant must have one of the following qualifications:—

(i) He must have passed the F.E. examination of the Calcutta University, and be under 23 years of age, but no student will be allowed to join the Agricultural Class after the expiration of five years from admission into the Engineering College.

(ii) He must have passed the B.A. examination of the Calcutta University by the B course, or possess other sufficient educational qualifications, be under 23 years of age, and in addition have received a nomination from the Bengal Government.

(iii) He must have had a general education qualifying him to follow the instruction in the Higher Agricultural Class, and must also receive a nomination from Government for admission as a special student. To be eligible for a nomination under this rule, a candidate must either have landed property of his own, or be recommended by some influential landholder who desires to train him to take part in the management of his estate, or he must otherwise satisfy Government that he intends to make practical use of his agricultural training. Students entering under this rule will be termed special agricultural students. They will not be subject to any maximum limit of age, but will not be eligible for competition for the appointments referred to below, even though they should obtain fully signed diplomas in due course after passing the necessary examinations.

Every candidate for admission to this Department must apply in writing to the Principal not later than the 14th July. The form of application for a nomination, which must be addressed to the Principal, may be obtained from the College. In the event of the form not being properly filled up and accompanied by the necessary certificates, no notice will be taken of the application.

The number to be nominated each year will depend on the accommodation available.

Every applicant, not already a student of the College, must undergo a medical examination by the College Surgeon before admission to this Department. If this officer's report is unsatisfactory, the applicant will not be admitted.

The session begins on the first Monday in November.

Course of Instruction.

The course of instruction in the Higher Agricultural Class will extend over two academic years.

Scholarships.

Senior scholarships awarded in the Engineer Department are tenable in the Agricultural Department.

One graduate scholarship of Rs. 30 a month, tenable for one year, will be awarded on the result of the examination held at the end of the first academic year.

Appointments.

Two appointments annually are assigned to students holding a fully signed diploma: one in the Provincial Executive Service and one in the Subordinate Executive Service. The right of selection for these appointments will rest with Government, and the students who gained the highest marks at the examination for diplomas will not necessarily be selected.

Other holders of fully signed agricultural diplomas, who wish to compete at the examination for admission to the Provincial, Subordinate Executive, and Opium Services, may submit their names through the Principal to Government for nominations. These applications for nominations will be considered, provided the applicants appear to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to be otherwise suitable for admission to these Services.

Each student in the Higher Agricultural Department will be required to pay an admission fee of Rs. 10.

F.E.'s who elect to join the Agricultural Department immediately after passing the F.E. examination are exempted from the payment of this fee, as their names are already borne on the College books.

For the present no tuition fees will be charged to students in the Agricultural Department, except in the case of those joining as special students under rule (iii). The tuition fees for these students will be Rs. 8 a month.

Further particulars may be obtained on application to the Principal.

Sonthal Parganas.

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules under section 22 of the Bengal Ferries Act, I of 1885, for the district of Sonthal Parganas.

Rule 1.—All private ferries shall be registered in the office of the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Parganas, and particulars under the following heads shall be entered in the application for registration:—

(a) Name of the ferry and names of the villages and thana in which and the rivers across which it is situated.

(b) The number and description of the boats to be maintained and the strength of the crews to be employed in each.

(c) The maximum number of passengers, animals, vehicles and bulk or weight of goods to be carried by each boat.

(e) The rate of tolls to be levied.

Rule 2.—On receipt of the application, the Deputy Commissioner shall consider whether the number and description of the boats and the strength of the crews are sufficient to meet in an orderly and safe manner the requirements of the traffic at the ferry: if satisfied that they are not sufficient, he may require the application to be amended in these respects. An appeal against any such orders shall lie to the Commissioner.

Rule 3.—If the proprietor of any private ferry shall not submit an application or revised application as required by rules 1 and 2 for its registration within three months from the publication of those rules or of an order for amendment under rule 2, as the case may be, the Deputy Commissioner of the district may serve upon him a written notice requiring him to submit the application within a stated period of not less than one month, and any proprietor on whom such a notice has been served in respect of any ferry shall not maintain the same or allow it to be maintained after the expiry of the period fixed in such notice, unless the particulars required by rule 1 shall have been furnished to the Deputy Commissioner as ordered.

Rule 4.—The proprietor of every private ferry shall be bound to adhere to the terms of his application, or of any statements furnished by him under rule 3, and shall not reduce the number of boats or crews to be maintained by him or maintain boats of a different description, or allow any of his boats to carry an excess number of passengers, animals, vehicles or weight or bulk of goods or excess tolls to be levied.

Rule 5.—The proprietor shall give a number to each boat and determine the number of passengers, animals and vehicles and the bulk and weight of other things it is authorised to carry at a single trip, and cause a notice to this effect, quoting each boat by its number to be fixed up in both landing stages.

Rule 6.—The ferry shall ordinarily ply between sunrise and sunset, but the proprietor may ply the boats after sunset, provided each boat carries a light which must be exhibited in the conspicuous part of the boat.

Rule 7.—The ferry shall not ply when the current, wind or state of the weather is such as to render the crossing unsafe or to endanger the lives of the passengers.

Rule 8.—The Deputy Commissioner may direct that any boat used in any private ferry may be examined by such officer as he may depute, and may prohibit the use of such boat if he is satisfied that it is of such a kind or in such a condition that its use is dangerous to life or property.

Rule 9.—The owner of every private ferry shall report without delay at the police-station or to the Subdivisional Officer within whose jurisdiction the ferry is situated the occurrence of any accidents at the ferry resulting in serious injury or in loss of life.

Rule 10.—The Deputy Commissioner may require the owner of any private ferry to state the name of any person to whom such ferry may be leased or who may be placed in charge of such ferry, and the owner shall be bound to comply with the requisition.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP IN BENGAL, 1901.

THE following is published for general information.

F. A. SLACKE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 28th June, 1901.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First forecast of the Jute Crop in Bengal for the season 1901.

Explanatory.—Returns are received from 26 districts in Bengal, the area under jute in the remaining 21 districts being insignificant. The present forecast contains figures for the area sown and the probable outturn of the crop as estimated up to the middle of June.

2. Character of the season.—There were fairly good showers throughout the jute-growing area in January last, but the rainfall in February was on the whole slightly in defect. This deficiency was emphasised in March, during which month not one of the jute-growing districts received its normal quota of rain. In April there was some improvement, several districts in South and East Bengal receiving more than the average rainfall, but in North Bengal and the important districts of Mymensingh and Dacca, there was less rain than usual. In May very few of the more important jute-growing districts received their normal fall of rain, the deficiency amounting to 2 inches in Dacca, 3 inches in Faridpur, and 5 inches in Tippera. Since the last few days of May, however, there has been steady and beneficial rain almost throughout the jute area, and at present the weather is extremely favourable to the crop.

3. Area cultivated.—Having reason to believe that the areas returned by District Officers as cultivated with jute have hitherto been somewhat below the mark, I asked that special enquiries might be made on this subject in the present season, and after careful investigations made in response to this request, the Collectors of the districts of Midnapore, Dinajpur, Mymensingh, and Tippera have modified their estimates of the normal area under this crop, while the Collector of the last-named district has also raised his original estimate of the area cultivated with jute last year. The Collector of Rangpur, while intimating to me that there has been a considerable expansion in the jute area in his district during the past few years, which has not been fully indicated in previous returns, has not as yet modified his estimates of normal area or of the area sown last year. It is now estimated that the normal area under jute in Bengal is 2,240,000 acres, that 2,092,400 acres were sown last year, and that 2,216,500 acres have been sown in the present season. The deficiency of rain in the earlier weeks of the season in many important districts, and the high price of rice, have tended to prevent any great expansion of the jute area this year, and the high prices recently realised for this crop have not counterbalanced these disadvantages.

4. Character of the crop.—The prospects of the crop are very fair, but the recent rain has not made up altogether for the preceding drought. Of the more important jute districts, Faridpur (105,000 acres) alone estimates a normal crop. In Rajshahi (112,200 acres) the estimate is 95 per cent., in Mymensingh and Rangpur (aggregating 888,400 acres) a 90 per cent. crop is anticipated, while in Tippera and Dacca (aggregating 437,700 acres) the estimate is 88, and in Pabna (140,500 acres) it is 87. The estimate of 60 per cent. sent up from Bogra is in my opinion too low, and I think that the District Officers have, as usual, somewhat under-estimated the probable outturn of the crop, the prospects of which have also improved since the local reports were compiled. The detailed estimates worked out for the Province as a whole give an 88 per cent. crop, but I believe that I am justified in anticipating an outturn of 94 per cent. of a normal crop, in the circumstances detailed by me above.

5. Stocks of the previous crop in hand.—The District Officers report that these stocks are very small.

6. Gross outturn of the crop.—Although some of the District Officers have provisionally revised their estimates of normal area, I do not think it advisable at present to revise the figure which has been given in the forecasts of recent years as representing the outturn of a normal crop, viz., 65 lakhs of bales. From the latest statistics available, it would appear that the outturn of the jute crop in the past season amounted to about 64 lakhs of bales. I estimate that the outturn of the crop of the present season will probably amount to 62½ lakhs of bales, or about 15½ annas of a normal crop.

The above is a rough estimate, based on figures which are published for the information of the trade, and is liable to considerable modification, should the character of the season in the next two months be either exceptionally favourable or the reverse.

P. C. LYON,

Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

DARJEELING,

The 22nd June, 1901.

The failure of the aman paddy last year owing to the unseasonable rainfall up to the present time, and the annually increasing price of jute account for the increase of area. The Collector has made careful enquiries, and reports that while the normal area under jute has increased during the past five years, the drought in March, April and the first half of May has reduced the area sown this year. He further states that some of the jute sown on high lands has failed to germinate, while the crop on low lands is so backward that a large proportion of it may have to be cut before it is mature.

Want of rain early in the season has affected the prospects of the crop, but they may improve should the rest of the season prove favourable.	In the circumstances explained by the Collector, he should probably have revised his figure for normal area.
	Bogra	889,760	620,000	95,000	88,000	71,000	100	60	Ditto ...	The area sown has been reduced, and the prospects of the crop have been rendered indifferent, by the want of timely rainfall.

	Noakhali	1,092,800	818,800	2,000	1,800	2,000	70	70	Ditto ...	The rise in the price of jute has caused an expansion of cultivation. Deficient rain early in the season has prejudiced the prospects of the crop.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables compute l in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

IN THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

I. Hoisting of yellow flag.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, (a) arriving from an infected port, or (b) having plague on board, or (c) on board of which one or more cases of plague have taken place within 12 days of her arrival, shall, on arrival at the Sandheads, hoist a yellow flag, and indicate by signal the port from which she has come, and shall keep such flag and signal flying until permitted in writing by the Health Officer to haul it down. The Pilot on going alongside such vessel shall direct the flag prescribed above to be hoisted, if that has not already been done.

II. Prohibition of communication with shore.—The Commander of every vessel flying the Q flag under the conditions named in rule I shall not, without first having obtained permission as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, except orally, with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat, excepting only the boat supplying the Pilots from the Pilot brig, and in that case communication shall be limited to receiving on board the Pilot, his leadsman, servant and baggage.

N.B.—Pilotage is compulsory for all vessels over 100 tons.

III. Stoppage at Diamond Harbour.—If there is any case of sickness on board, and the Pilot has reason to believe that it is plague, he shall telegraph to the Health Officer from Saugor, and not proceed beyond Diamond Harbour, without the permission of the Health Officer.

IV. Stoppage at Matiabrooj.—If the Pilot has no reason to believe that there is anyone suffering from plague on board, he shall bring the vessel up the river to Matiabrooj, and shall anchor there until the Health Officer has visited it. The Pilot of such vessel shall not leave her until the Q flag has been hauled down, or until he has received permission from the Health Officer to do so. If, however, any vessel brought under this rule up to Matiabrooj is subsequently found to be suspected or infected, the Health Officer may direct her to be taken back to Diamond Harbour, to be treated there, according to rule 7 or 8, as the case may be, of the rules published under Notification No. 36Marine, of 18th March 1901.

V. Objections against compliance with the rules.—Any vessel objecting to submit to the obligations imposed by these rules, or by the rules promulgated under Notification No. 36Marine, of 18th March 1901, will be free to put back to sea; but such objections must be notified on arrival at Saugor or at Diamond Harbour.

The Pilot, on going alongside such vessel, shall direct the flag prescribed above to be hoisted, if that has not already been done.

II. Prohibition of communication with shore.—The Commander of every vessel flying the yellow flag shall not, without first having obtained permission as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, except orally, with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat, excepting only with the boat supplying the Pilots from the Pilot cutter, and in that case, communication shall be limited to receiving on board the Pilot, his servant and baggage.

N. B.—Pilotage is not compulsory.

III. Stoppage outside the river.—If there is any case of sickness on board, and the Pilot has reason to believe that it is plague, he shall send word to the HealthOfficer, and not proceed without the permission of the Health Officer.

No. 87 Marine.—The following copy of (1) a correspondence and (2) of a telegram No. 2645P., dated 20th June 1901, regarding plague at Busrah is published for genera information.

R. B. BUCKLEY,

No. 133, dated British Residency, Baghdad, the 9th May 1901.

From—MAJOR P. J. MELVILL, Officiating Political Resident in Turkish Arabia,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit a copy of circular letter No. 27, dated the 20th instant, from the Sanitary Inspector at Baghdad, the purport of which was telegraphed to you on the 29th ultimo, through the Government of Bombay, as follows:—

In consequence of two suspected cases of plague at Busrah, 20th April, ten days' quarantine has been imposed on arrivals from Busrah; no other case has occurred.

2. Since then three other suspected cases at Busrah on the 26th and 29th ultimo and the 8th instant have been reported, and I have received information from the sanitary authorities to-day that one suspected case of plague occurred here on the 7th instant. I have not yet been able to ascertain particulars of the last mentioned case, but I doubt very much whether it or the cases at Busrah were really plague. I may mention that His Excellency the Vali of Baghdad himself told me a few days ago that the outbreak of so-called plague near the Persian frontier in March 1900, in consequence of which quarantine was imposed by the sanitary authorities for nearly four months, is now known to have been famine fever, while the so-called cholera at Busrah in October 1899, in consequence of which quarantine was imposed, on this occasion also for nearly four months, was undoubtedly nothing more than a bad form of diarrhœa which occurs regularly every year during the date season, and which is caused by the people eating largely of over-ripe fruit, the extent of the mortality depending on the character of the season, for of competent medical attendance there is practically none.

3. In consequence of the one suspected case of plague here, the Constantinople Board of Health have imposed five days' quarantine on all departures from Baghdad.

Copy of Circular No. 27, dated the 20th April 1901, from the Sanitary Inspector at Baghdad.

Par décision du Conseil Supérieur de Santé, les provenances du Busrah sont, à partir les départs du 14—27 courant, soumises à une quarantaine de dix jours, à purger dans un lazaret.

Les mêmes provenances à déstination de Baghdad, sont également soumises à une quarantaine de dix jours au lazaret de Ghermet-Alli, dépuis les departs de la même date.

Les bateaux pourrant aller de Baghdad charger et debarquer des marchandises à Ghermet-Alli.

Les bateaux partis de Busrah avant la date susmentionnée en route pour Baghdad (et dont un le "Medjidieh" arrivé déjà hier soir dans la unit) seront retenus à Gararah pour purger dix jours de quarantaine.

L'Inspecteur Sanitaire,

DR. G. CAVALLARIS.

No. 148, dated British Residency, Baghdad, the 19th May 1901.

From—MAJOR P J. MELVILL, Officiating Political Resident in Turkish Arabia,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department.

IN continuation of my letter No. 133, dated the 9th instant, I have the honour to inform you that since that date there have been four cases of plague and three deaths at Busrah. There has been no case at Baghdad, and I have little or no doubt that the suspected case was not really one of plague; the woman who died had been ill for some considerable time. On the other hand, I understand that an English doctor, who is now at Busrah, and who is said to have had considerable experience of plague at Bombay, has pronounced the disease at Busrah to be bubonic plague.

Copy of a telegram, No. 2645P., dated 20th June 1901, from Bombay, Plague, to Simla, Home.

MY telegram 1961P. of 6th ultimo. Resident, Baghdad, wires: Begins. Medical inspection has been substituted for ten days' quarantine imposed on arrivals from Busrah. Ends.

Rules for Admission.

FOR admission to the Higher Agricultural Class, an applicant must have one of the following qualifications:—

(i) He must have passed the F.E. examination of the Calcutta University, and be under 23 years of age, but no student will be allowed to join the Agricultural Class after the expiration of five years from admission into the Engineering College.

(ii) He must have passed the B.A. examination of the Calcutta University by the B course, or possess other sufficient educational qualifications, be under 23 years of age, and in addition have received a nomination from the Bengal Government.

(iii) He must have had a general education qualifying him to follow the instruction in the Higher Agricultural Class, and must also receive a nomination from Government for admission as a special student. To be eligible for a nomination under this rule, a candidate must either have landed property of his own, or be recommended by some influential landholder who desires to train him to take part in the management of his estate, or he must otherwise satisfy Government that he intends to make practical use of his agricultural training. Students entering under this rule will be termed special agricultural students. They will not be subject to any maximum limit of age, but will not be eligible for competition for the appointments referred to below, even though they should obtain fully signed diplomas in due course after passing the necessary examinations.

Every candidate for admission to this Department must apply in writing to the Principal not later than the 14th July. The form of application for a nomination, which must be addressed to the Principal, may be obtained from the College. In the event of the form not being properly filled up and accompanied by the necessary certificates, no notice will be taken of the application.

The number to be nominated each year will depend on the accommodation available.

Every applicant, not already a student of the College, must undergo a medical examination by the College Surgeon before admission to this Department. If this officer's report is unsatisfactory, the applicant will not be admitted.

The session begins on the first Monday in November.

Course of Instruction.

The course of instruction in the Higher Agricultural Class will extend over two academic years.

Scholarships.

Senior scholarships awarded in the Engineer Department are tenable in the Agricultural Department.

One graduate scholarship of Rs. 30 a month, tenable for one year, will be awarded on the result of the examination held at the end of the first academic year.

Appointments.

Two appointments annually are assigned to students holding a fully signed diploma: one in the Provincial Executive Service and one in the Subordinate Executive Service. The right of selection for these appointments will rest with Government, and the students who gained the highest marks at the examination for diplomas will not necessarily be selected.

Other holders of fully signed agricultural diplomas, who wish to compete at the examination for admission to the Provincial, Subordinate Executive, and Opium Services, may submit their names through the Principal to Government for nominations. These applications for nominations will be considered, provided the applicants appear to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to be otherwise suitable for admission to these Services.

Each student in the Higher Agricultural Department will be required to pay an admission fee of Rs. 10.

F.E.'s who elect to join the Agricultural Department immediately after passing the F.E. examination are exempted from the payment of this fee, as their names are already borne on the College books.

For the present no tuition fees will be charged to students in the Agricultural Department, except in the case of those joining as special students under rule (iii). The tuition fees for these students will be Rs. 8 a month.

Further particulars may be obtained on application to the Principal.

AUSTRALIA—QUEENSLAND—PRINCESS CHARLOTTE BAY.

Wikingen shoal, and 3-fathom patch—Non-existence of—Clark bank, depth on—.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 400 of 1901) issued by the British Admiralty is republished :—

Information, dated 1st April 1901, has been received from Lieutenant and Commander C E. Monro, H. M. surveying vessel Dart, that he had sounded over the supposed position of the Wikingen shoal in Princess Charlotte bay, without discovering any sign of danger. As this shoal has been searched for on previous occasions without success, and as it was originally reported as being partially dry at low water, it is believed not to exist, and has consequently been expunged from the Admiralty charts.

Also, with reference to Notice to Mariners No. 393 of 1893 (210 of 1893 issued by this office) further search has been made for the coral patch reported to exist in lat. 14° 12′ S., long. 143° 55′ E., without effect. It is therefore considered that this danger is identical with the 3-fathom patch (now named Olive) situated in lat. 14° 11′ S., long. 143° 56′ 05″ E., as was stated was probably the case, in Notice to Mariners No. 813 of 1900 (No. 3 of 1901 issued by this office). The southern shoal has therefore been expunged.

Although H. M. S. Dart closely examined Clark bank, lat. 14° 7′ S., long. 143° 56′ E., also originally reported in Notice to Mariners No. 393 of 1893, without obtaining less depths than 5 fathoms, it is probable that there is as little as 3½ fathoms on this danger, as Mr. Clark states he sounded in that depth on a pinnacle. The 3½ fathoms has therefore been inserted on the Admiralty Chart.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Chart :—Turtle group to Claremont point, No. 2922 : Also, Australia Directory, vol. II, 1898, page 384.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON INLAND EMIGRATION FOR THE YEAR 1900.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

Dated Darjeeling, the 6th July 1901.

RESOLUTION—No. 970T.—G.

READ—

The Report of the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, on Inland Emigration for the year 1900.

THIS Report was due to Government on the 30th of April, but was not received till the 18th of May. There was no sufficient excuse for the delay. Orders have recently been issued which will result in considerably curtailing in future the length without impairing the value of this Report.

The total number of emigrants despatched to the labour districts in Assam, Cachar and Sylhet has again increased from 33,693 in 1899 to 65,190 during the year under review. This rise in the volume of emigration almost to double was due to bad harvests in the recruitment districts, but the numbers have been so large of recent years that the conditions of labour in Assam must now be familiar throughout the tract. All the emigrants embarked at Goalundo, Dhubri having been given up as an original port of embarkation.

2. Of the 65,190 emigrants embarked, 46,335 were destined for Assam, 6,838 for Cachar, and 11,717 for Sylhet. The number of casualties during the river journey increased from 80 in 1899 to 227 during the year under review. This rise in casualties was due mainly to epidemics of cholera, which accounted for 186 out of the 214 deaths. The death-rate during the journey from Goalundo in 1899 was exceptionally low, and was not due to any laxity in the enforcement of the precautionary rules prescribed by Government.

There was a reduction in the percentage of way-bills returned to the Superintendent of Emigration from 94 per cent. in 1899 to 86 during 1900. The instructions issued on this point under Act I of 1882 by the Chief Commissioner of Assam to his District Officers will, no doubt, be repeated under the amended Assam Labour and Emigration Act, VI of 1901, and will, it is trusted, lead to better result in future.

3. Coolies were recruited, as in the previous years, either by (i) licensed contractors, (ii) special local agents, (iii) certificated garden sardars, or (iv) as free emigrants. There were 2 contractors, as in the previous year, with 16 licensed recruiters, as against 17 in 1899, working under them; 17 special local agents working under section 62 of the Assam Labour and Emigration Act, I of 1882, as against 12 in 1899; and 118 local agents licensed under section 59 of the Act, as compared with 108 in the preceding year. The number of garden sardars placed under the supervision of these agents decreased from 5,325 in 1899 to 4,045 in 1900, and the average number of sardars under each agent from 49 in 1899 to 34. Notwithstanding this decrease of 1,280, the number of sardars employed on behalf of the tea-gardens seems still to be unduly large; for each sardar failed to obtain more than 3 recruits on the average.

Of the 65,190 emigrants despatched to the labour districts, 26,300, or 40 per cent., as against 44 per cent. in 1899, were recruited as free coolies; 1,337 emigrants, or only 2 per cent., were recruited by the licensed contractors; and 8,030, or 12 per cent., by the special local agents. The largest number, 29,493, or 45 per cent, as against 38 per cent., in 1899, was collected by the garden sardars. Hitherto the so-called "free" coolies formed the bulk of the recruits, and in Bengal the free emigrants still predominate. By Act VI of 1901, special privileges have been granted to gardon sardars; and in future not only should the malpractices connected with recruiting operations decrease, but the change ought to be economical to employers of labour, as their garden sardars will not have to compete with unlicensed recruiters.

4. The original number of emigrants of all classes embarked from the recruiting districts of this Province was 50,913; the remainder, 14,277, were emigrants recruited in other provinces.

Of the 1,498 emigrants recruited by contractors, the largest number, viz., 1,432, or 95 per cent. as in the previous year, was registered in the 24-Parganas, and the rest from the districts of Bankura and Balasore. According to the registers, 43 per cent. of these recruits were natives of Madras, 32 per cent. of Bengal, and 18 per cent. of Orissa. It is noteworthy that of the large number registered in the 24-Parganas, only 3 were natives of that district. Of the 11,282 coolies registered by special local agents, Manbhum contributed, as in the previous year, the largest number, viz., 6,738, or 59 per cent., Ranchi 4,112, or 36 per cent., and the rest were recruited from the districts of Midnapore, Singhbhum and the Sonthal Parganas.

5. Between recruitment and embarkation there were 524 casualties, due to releases, desertions and deaths among all classes of emigrants, as compared with 555 in 1899. Considering that the number of recruits was almost double that of the previous year, the decrease in the total casualties would have been reckoned as satisfactory had not the mortality been disproportionately high; of the 524 casualties, so large a number as 132 being caused by death, of which 111 were due to cholera. This large number of deaths was due to an outbreak of cholera originating at Asansol, whence, in spite of the stringent application of the segregation rules and the adoption of other measures for checking its spread, the disease was carried to Naihati, Goalundo and the river routes.

6. The most important question which occupied the attention of Government during the year under review was the amendment of the law relating to emigration to Assam. The Assam Labour and Emigration Act, VI of 1901, which has since been passed by the Government of India, has not only amended the previous Act I of 1882, but also embodies with modifications the Inland Emigrants' Health Act, I (B.C.) of 1889. The changes effected by the amended Act have been reviewed in a separate Resolution. Draft notifications to be issued under sections 3 and 90 of the Act have been submitted to the Government of India for approval; and a revised set of rules, incorporating the rules previously issued under Act I of 1882 and Act I (B.C.) of 1889, with the necessary modifications and improvements so as to bring them into conformity with the provisions and spirit of the new Act, is now under preparation.

7. Some of the questions noticed in the last year's Resolution have continued to engage the attention of Government. An additional route has been opened viâ Manihari Ghat and Jatrapur for the despatch of emigrants recruited in the Sonthal Parganas; and Purulia has been made a halting-place for the coolies recruited in the Chota Nagpur Division (except Hazaribagh), who will no longer be halted at Asansol with the coolies coming from the Central Provinces, but allowed to proceed direct to Naihati. Further steps were taken to provide latrine accommodation, urinals and shelters for emigrant passengers at certain railway stations, and improvements were made in the rules issued in 1899 for the segregation and treatment of emigrants infected with epidemic diseases. Arrangements have been made for a uniform system of repatriation of emigrants with the object of ensuring that the emigrants who are sent back from Assam, or while en route to that Province, may reach their homes safely.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to express his appreciation of the work done by Dr. Banks, the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. A. SLACKE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The Government of India, Home Department's letter No. 2741, dated the 26th March 1901.

UNDER the orders of the Government of India, in their Resolution No. 2741, dated the 26th March 1901, the Director of Public Instruction, instead of submitting separate reports on the working of the Alipore and Hazaribagh Reformatory Schools, has prepared one amalgamated report. The management of the two schools was taken over by the Educational Department on 1st January 1900, and the present report deals with the results of the first year's working under that Department.

Of the various schemes dealt with during the year, the most important was that concerning the amalgamation of the two schools. The proposal has for the present been postponed mainly on the ground that the numbers are too large, but the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that in time, when the provisions of the Reformatory Act are more fully recognised and acted on, this obstacle will be removed. It cannot be too clearly understood that the experience of the English Reformatory Schools is of little use to us in India. A boy in an English Reformatory belongs to no trade-caste, and is beset on his discharge by no caste restrictions and difficulties. In India our experience is more and more definite that if Reformatory boys are to get on in life, the trade they are taught in school must be that of their caste. The result is that the trades the boys must be taught are infinitely more varied than in English Reformatories, and the English system of small schools is impossible, except at an absolutely prohibitive expense. The first step to the end, which Sir John Woodburn keeps steadily in view, has been taken in the concentration, as far as practicable, of boys of agricultural castes at Hazaribagh and those of industrial castes at Alipore. In furtherance of this project, a scheme of agricultural instruction in connection with the Hazaribagh School, drawn up in consultation with the Director of Land Records, has received the sanction of Government.

Hitherto for want of the requisite accommodation the few Eurasian and European boys convicted of crimes were kept in jail. This defect has during the year under report been removed, and such boys are now received in the Alipore School. A revised and combined set of regulations for the management of the schools has, with the approval of Government, been introduced.

The Lieutenant-Governor notices with surprise that the present report is silent as to whether the Commissioners of Divisions have submitted reports showing how far the provisions of section 31 of Act VIII of 1897 and of section 562, Criminal Procedure Code, were utilised by trying Magistrates. This information was expressly required in the orders on the Reformatory Report for 1898, and he requests that the Director of Public Instruction will obtain and submit these figures for the year under report. Contrary to all the Lieutenant-Governor's anticipations, the number of admissions to the two schools during the year rose from 99 to 128 It is perhaps a small matter that such an increase militates against the execution of his plans for the better government of the schools, but it is his firm conviction that many of the boys sent to the Reformatories might be better treated under the provisions for youthful offenders, and he will be obliged by the Boards of Management examining the admissions for 1900 from that point of view and giving him their views.

The health, discipline and conduct of the boys in both schools were satisfactory. The construction of a hospital for the Alipore School has been sanctioned. The improvement in the general health of the Hazaribagh School is attributed to the reduction made in the quantity of work demanded from the boys. Cotton-weaving, which was a remunerative industry, was formerly carried on at too high pressure. As compared with the previous year, there was a marked decrease in the Hazaribagh School with regard to the number of punishments inflicted.

The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to observe that the Department has taken steps to raise the educational training in the Hazaribagh School and to introduce a proper class system. Football is now played at both schools with good results.

In the Alipore School the profits from manufactures increased by 20 per cent., and the increase would have been greater but for the closer attention given to the instruction of boys in their hereditary trades. At Hazaribagh, consequent chiefly on the change in the system with regard to cotton-weaving, profits decreased by 42 per cent. The Lieutenant-Governor takes no exception. He has always recognised that under the plan of teaching boys their caste trades profits must decrease, and at Hazaribagh the cost for maintenance necessarily rose with the high prices of food-stuffs.

The essential matter in all this business, the point to which everything else leads up, is the history of the boys after their training is over and they are discharged from the Reformatory. The Lieutenant-Governor is much disappointed to be told by the Director that the information on this head is exceedingly meagre. The hope which was entertained in placing the Reformatories in his charge was that here at least we should have new and ample knowledge; that the machinery of his department, represented in every village and trusted by the people, would be of material help to the boys after release, and at all events give the most complete and certain information of their occupation. The Director must make the proper arrangements with his subordinates for getting this information, and must insist on its being supplied. Meanwhile, such information as is given is very discouraging. The boys who were given employment at the Empress Mills and at the Bengal Secretariat Press first absented themselves and then disappeared. The one hopeful sign is that some of the boys released during 1900 called at the Alipore School for certificates to enable them to secure employment, though it is not obvious why boys, who deserved certificates, were discharged without them. The Director excuses his subordinates on the ground of the newness of their duties; the duties possessed no difficulty; their supreme importance for the object in view has not been recognised; and the Director must impress on his masters and inspectors that they must not be neglected.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, for information and communication to the Presidents of the Boards of Management of the Alipore and Hazaribagh Reformatory Schools.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. A. SLACKE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT UNDER SECTION 41 OF BENGAL ACT I OF 1893 ON THE WAREHOUSES IN HOWRAH FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31st MARCH 1901.

No. 1898M.—The 8th July 1901.—The following report is published for general information.

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1900-1901 UNDER THE LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT, I OF 1893, AS AMENDED BY ACT I OF 1894.

Dated Howrah, the 10th June 1901.

From—F. W. DUKE, Esq., Chairman of the Howrah Municipality.
To—The Magistrate of Howrah.

I HAVE the honour to report that 259 warehouses were licensed in 1900-1901 out of 296 registered during that year against 259 out of 291 registered in 1899-1900; the details being as follows:—

YEAR.		Jute.	Cotton.	Straw.	Wood.	Hay.	Total.
Registered	1899-1900 ...	32	28	60	167	4	291
	1900-1901 ...	32	28	62	170	4	296
Licensed	1899-1900 ...	25	28	49	153	4	259
	1900-1901 ...	28	25	53	150	3	259

2. The income from license-fees during the year under report amounted to Rs. 5,544, of which Rs. 144 were collected on account of arrears for 1 99-1900. But in the year 1899-1900 the collections amounted to Rs. 5,555, of which Rs. 239 were on account of arrears for 1898-99; though Messrs. Ewing & Co., of Golabari Road, Sulkia (Rs. 45), Messrs. Landle, Clark & Co., of Old Ghusari Road (Rs. 18-12), Messrs. Jamunadas Bromodoitto, of No. 155 Old Ghusari Road (Rs. 50), Messrs. Hurdyal Bissendyal, of No. 172 Old Ghusari Road (Rs. 7-8) and Messrs. Shaw Wallace & Co., of No. 6 Old Ghusari Road (Rs. 15), in addition to those mentioned in the last year's report, did not pay their respective license-fees owing to their warehouses remaining vacant throughout the year. Hence it is apparent that there is an improvement in collection of license-fees in the year under report.

3. The demand, collection, remission and balance for 1900-1901 are shown in Appendix A, and the details of licenses granted in this year to Jute and Cotton Warehouses are entered in Appendix B. Owing to the comparative unimportance of the 206 licenses granted for the storage of straw, wood and hay in 1900-1901, against 206 in the previous year, they have not been entered in Appendix B, and it may be noted that such licenses have only been levied under the Fire-Brigade Act since July 1893, prior to which they were levied under section 261 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

4. There were 29 prosecutions in the year under review, which realised Rs. 102-8, against 27 in the previous year, which produced Rs. 103-8.

5. The expenditure incurred in assessing and collecting license-fees amounted to Rs. 839 as detailed below:—

		Rs.
Salary of	General Supervisor and Assessor	550
	Inspector	180
Commission of Inspector		25
Salary of	Clerk	36
	Peon	42
Contingencies		6
	Total ...	839

6. The Fire-brigade establishment, as hitherto, remained under the control of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. The Fire-brigade Station in Howrah stands in a very central position north of the Municipal Market, and from a wooden stage raised over it the whole town is overlooked. There were eight fires during the year, the details of which are given in Appendix C: besides these, there were three other petty fires, at two of which the Fire-brigade attended, while one was extinguished by the residents of the localities.

7. The Commissioner of Police demanded Rs. 4,572 for the maintenance of the Fire-brigade in 1900-1901, and this amount was remitted to him during the year.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0°·5 higher; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1900.

No. 1560J.—D.

RESOLUTION.

POLICE.

Dated Darjeeling, the 5th July 1901.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1900.

Read also—

The Reports for the two previous years and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

THE working of the Calcutta Police Force during the year 1900 as disclosed in the Commissioner's report has been satisfactory and uneventful, and there are no striking variations in the crime figures to attract special notice. Of the cases reported to the police, no less than 84·8 per cent. were prosecuted to a conviction, while the percentage of convictions to cases actually sent before the Magistrates was 96·8. The police deserve great credit for these results, and their general conduct appears on the whole to have been satisfactory; but it is noticeable on the one hand that the amount paid in rewards has decreased by half, and on the other that the number of departmental dismissals has increased from 48 to 66, of whom no less than 8 are European constables; this is a large percentage of the total force of European constables, and some explanation is necessary to show that this serious state of things is due to temporary causes, and not to any defect in the system of recruitment or apportionment of duties. The police seem peculiarly unsuccessful in the detection of murder cases: nor have their efforts to recover stolen property been as fruitful as last year. The amount stolen has been larger and the amount recovered less, the percentage for both Town and Suburbs being 55 against 59·3 in the preceding year. On the other hand, great care has been taken to ascertain the antecedents of accused persons, and full advantage has been taken of the collection of finger-impressions in the office of the Inspector-General of Police, with the result that previous convictions were proved against 270 persons, whose antecedents were previously unknown.

2. The only class of cases that shows any substantial increase is that of prosecutions under the Cruelty to Animals Act. These rose from 5,668 to 6,780 in the Town and from 2,926 to 3,893 in the Suburbs; this shows a revival of activity such as there was in 1897, but no information is given as to the average penalties imposed. There has been a considerable increase in the number of prosecutions for rash and furious driving, but no mention is made of the penalties imposed; as the total amount of fines inflicted by the Bench Magistrates has largely increased, it may be hoped that a more reasonable view has been taken than before of the seriousness of this offence. It is satisfactory that the number of persons run over is less than last year. The number of false cases has diminished, but, in spite of the attention that has been so frequently called to the matter, the offence of maliciously harassing an innocent neighbour with a false charge is still regarded as a venial one, especially in the town. There were 18 prosecutions, but only 3 convictions, and then the punishment inflicted was a fine. The Lieutenant-Governor has to repeat that when such a charge is brought home, it is absolutely necessary for the protection of the community that a deterrent sentence should be passed: to inflict a fine is to make this form of harassment a luxury of the rich.

3. There are again signs that the Magistrates issue processes without due enquiry. Out of 2,692 cognizable cases instituted before them, 413 were dismissed before the issue of process, but of the remainder only 496 ended in conviction. It must be remembered that, even when a case is compromised, it is not necessarily one in which process should have been granted: even innocent people may prefer to come to terms rather than be harassed in Court; and when only 25 per cent. of the cases in which processes issued resulted in conviction, it is clear that there is still room for more careful consideration before deciding to summon the accused. There is no reference to the extent to which the Magistrates have utilised the provisions of section 562 of the Criminal Procedure Code, but there is a substantial increase in the number of accused sent to reformatory schools, and it is presumed that juvenile offenders are not being sent to jail when it is possible to dispose of them otherwise. The European Vagrancy Act appears to have been administered satisfactorily, and the numbers dealt with under it do not vary much from those of last year, though there was slightly less success in obtaining work for the inmates.

4. The Arms Act returns show that there has been a decrease in the number of weapons imported into Calcutta, and a very large falling off in the quantity of gunpowder. This, however, points to an excessive importation in previous years, and not to any falling off in the activity of the trade in arms. The number of rifles, guns, and revolvers sold by the dealers is considerably larger than last year, though there is a diminution in the amount of gunpowder sold under transport licenses. There is an increase in the number of licenses to transport to Native States and to possess fire-arms and go armed. The greatest care should be exercised in the grant of licenses to possess fire-arms in Calcutta.

5. The report has been submitted by Mr. Showers, who took over charge after the close of the year. It has been compressed, but still contains several tabular statements. Separate orders are under issue to recast the report in future. Though due to this Government on the 30th April, it is dated the 27th June; for several years past the unpunctuality with which this report has been submitted has been a source of complaint, and whether this is due to the late submission of the Presidency Magistrates' returns or any other cause, the appointed date must be observed.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and for communication to the Presidency Magistrates.

Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, and the Municipal Department of this Government for information.

Ordered, also, that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

Prospectus for Admission.

THIS School is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors: it owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. FINANCE AND COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.
PUBLIC DEBT.

No. 3270.

Simla, the 13th July 1901.

THREE-AND-A-HALF PER CENT. LOAN.

His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General in Council has resolved to borrow one hundred lakhs of rupees for the public service in the following manner:

2. Promissory Notes will be issued for the said amount in the Form annexed to this Notification, being the form of the notes of the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan of 1900-1, of which loan the notes to be now issued will form a part. All the conditions which apply to notes of the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan of 1900-1 will apply to the notes to be now issued. The interest on the notes of that loan is payable half-yearly on the 30th day of June and the 31st day of December; and the notes are not liable to discharge before the 31st day of December 1920.

Tenders.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Rs. 1,00,00,000 will be received by the Comptroller General from this date to noon of Wednesday, the 14th August next. Tenders must be for sums of 100 Rupees or multiples of that sum.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a closed cover, superscribed "Tender for the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan." If the tenderer is not resident in India, he must name an agent resident in India to whom an allotment-certificate may be issued, if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer.

NOTE (1).—Tenders made in accordance with these instructions will also be received by the Accountants General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, and Lahore, on account of the Comptroller General, Calcutta, on the 13th August and up to the local time corresponding to 12 o'clock in Calcutta on the 14th August; provided that—

(a) they are delivered personally or by clerk or messenger at the Accountant General's Office (where a receipt will be given for them);
(b) they are made on printed forms, to be obtained at the same office or at the local Presidency Bank;
(c) each tender is for not less than Rs. 10,000;
(d) the deposit is either a promissory note or a Treasury Receipt from the local Office of the Presidency Bank, or a cheque on a local Bank in favour of the Accountant General;
(e) the amount of the tender is made payable either at the place of tender or in Calcutta; and the Accountant General will return deposits on non-accepted tenders, and will issue allotment-certificates so far as the tenders are payable in Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore.

NOTE (2).—Tenders made in accordance with these instructions will also be received at all Head and Sub Post Offices up to a date to be notified at each Post Office. The date will vary according to the distance of the Post Office from Calcutta and will in no case be later than the forenoon of the 12th of August. The following conditions must be complied with:

(a) the tenders must be delivered personally or by messenger at the Post Office, where a receipt will be given for them;
(b) they must be made on printed forms, to be obtained at the Post Office;
(c) each tender must be for not less than Rs. 100 and not more than Rs. 2,000;
(d) the deposit must be a receipt for the amount (which may not exceed Rs. 40) from the Post Master of the Post Office at which the tender is made;
(e) the amount of the tender must be made payable either at the Head Post Office of tender (whether the tender was made at the Head Post Office or at one of its Sub-Offices) or in Calcutta.

The tenders will be transmitted by post by the Post Master to the Comptroller General so as to reach him before 11 A.M. on Wednesday, the 14th of August. The Comptroller General will deal with them as if they had been made direct to him, returning deposits on non-accepted tenders through the Post Master.

5. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms—as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders—will be rejected as null and void.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

Deposits.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by a deposit of not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than Five Lakhs of Rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. The deposit must be in one of the following forms: (a) a receipt for the amount from the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an officer in charge of some Public Treasury, or (b) a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, or Lahore, or (c) Government Promissory Notes[1] standing in the name of, or endorsed to, the tenderer or the person making the deposit. In the case of tenders made at Post Offices under note (2) to clause 4, the deposit must be a receipt for the amount from the Post Master of the Post Office at which the tender is made.

[1] It is particularly requested that such Promissory Notes may NOT be endorsed to the Comptroller General.

8. (a) Deposits, not being promissory notes, will, in the case of accepted tenders, be credited proportionately in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender, and will bear interest for the purpose of clause 16 below from the date of the opening of tenders. When a tender is not accepted in full, the deposits, when they are not in the form of promissory notes, will be credited as far as possible proportionately in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of it. If any allotment-certificate is not fully taken up, the deposit credited in respect of it will be forfeited.

(b) Promissory notes deposited in respect of any accepted tender will be held until all the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender are paid up, and will, if the allotment-certificates are not fully taken up, be appropriated by the Government and cancelled.

Opening of Tenders.

9. The Governor General in Council reserves the right to declare, on or before the 7th August, the minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted. If not so declared, the said minimum rate will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

10. Tenders will be opened publicly by the Comptroller General at the Treasury Buildings, Calcutta, at noon (Calcutta time), on Wednesday, the 14th August next, and those received under the terms of note (1) to clause 4 will be similarly opened by the Accountants General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, and Lahore at the local time corresponding to noon Calcutta time, on the same day; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 12.

11. Tenders at rates not below the minimum rate will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate. The amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders; provided that no allotment will be issued if the amount distributable on any tender is less than Rs. 100: preference will however be given to small tenders, not exceeding Rs. 2,000, at the lowest accepted rate, such tenders receiving allotments in full as far as possible.

Allotment-Certificates.

12. To each tenderer (or to his agent) whose tender is accepted in whole or in part such number of allotment-certificates as may be necessary to make up the aggregate amount allotted to him will be issued by the Comptroller General[1] as soon as possible after the 14th August; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such allotment-certificates are issued will be posted for general information at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, and at the Branch Offices of the Bank of Bengal at Allahabad and Lahore.

[1] For tenders received by the Accountant General at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad or Lahore, and payable at those places, the Accountant General will issue the allotment-certificates.

13. If the allotment made on any tender is less than Rs. 3,000, then the whole of the allotment-certificates [after credit of the deposit under clause 8 (a)] will be made payable upon the 24th September.

Otherwise the whole amount of each allotment will be divided into three instalments as follows:

Instalment I.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 27th August:

Instalment II.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 24th September:

Instalment III.—The balance payable upon the 16th October:

and allotment-certificates will be issued for each instalment separately.

But the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the allotment-certificates.

The words "as near as convenient" refer to the necessity for making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs. 100.

14. Any allotment-certificate will, on application to the Comptroller General, be exchanged for an equivalent amount of allotment-certificates of smaller denominations; provided that if any payment (beyond the deposit) is recorded upon the cancelled certificate, it can be taken against, and recorded upon, only one of the certificates issued in exchange.

15. Payment of any allotment-certificate may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal or Madras or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any Public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender in respect of which it was issued. Receipts for such payments will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made, by enfacement upon the relative certificate. In the case of accepted tenders which were made at Post Offices under note (2) to clause 4, payment of allotment-certificates may also be made at the Head Post Office of tender, and the Head Post Master will give a receipt for such payment by enfacement upon the relative allotment-certificate.

Issue of Promissory Notes.

16. (a) When any allotment-certificate is fully paid up, the holder will, on presenting it duly receipted at the place where it was paid, obtain from the Public Debt Office, Calcutta, promissory notes of such values as he may desire (each note being in even hundreds and not less than Rs. 100), bearing interest from 31st December 1901, and he will also receive interest at 3½ per cent. per annum from the dates on which he may have made payment till the 30th December 1901.

(b) Or he may, at his option, by paying interest at the said rate from 30th June 1901 to the dates on which he may have made payment, obtain promissory notes as above, bearing interest from 30th June 1901.

Wikingen shoal, and 3-fathom patch—Non-existence of—Clark bank, depth on—.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 400 of 1901) issued by the British Admiralty is republished:—

Information, dated 1st April 1901, has been received from Lieutenant and Commander C. E. Monro, R. M. surveying vessel Dart, that he had sounded over the supposed position of the Wikingen shoal in Princess Charlotte bay, without discovering any sign of danger. As this shoal has been searched for on previous occasions without success, and as it was originally reported as being partially dry at low water, it is believed not to exist, and has consequently been expunged from the Admiralty charts.

Also, with reference to Notice to Mariners No. 393 of 1893 (210 of 1893 issued by this office) further search has been made for the coral patch reported to exist in lat. 14° 12′ S., long. 143° 55′ E., without effect. It is therefore considered that this danger is identical with the 3-fathom patch (now named Olive) situated in lat. 14° 11′ S., long. 143° 56′ 05″ E., as was stated was probably the case, in Notice to Mariners No. 813 of 1900 (No. 3 of 1901 issued by this office). The southern shoal has therefore been expunged.

Although H. M. S Dart closely examined Clark bank, lat. 14° 7′ S., long. 143° 56′ E., also originally reported in Notice to Mariners No. 393 of 1893, without obtaining less depths than 5 fathoms, it is probable that there is as little as 3½ fathoms on this danger, as Mr Clark states he sounded in that depth on a pinnacle. The 3½ fathoms has therefore been inserted on the Admiralty Chart.

THE Master of the S.S. Bhundara has given notice of shoaler water than is shown on the chart, 4 miles off the coast between Nircum and Porkaud. The vessel passed Alleppey lighthouse, distance about 4½ miles, in 8 fathoms, steering S. 16° E. mag., and when about abreast of Nircum the water suddenly shoaled from 7 to 5 fathoms, and with Porkaud S. 73° E. mag., Alleppey lighthouse N. 15° E. mag., to 4¾ fathoms, which depth was carried until Porkaud bore N. 75° E. mag. and Alleppey lighthouse N. 6° E. mag., when it suddenly deepened to 7 fathoms. Course was then altered straight for Porkaud; the water deepening to 8 fathoms, which depth was maintained for some distance, when the soundings gradually shoaled to 5½ fathoms, in which water the vessel anchored on the following bearing:—

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON COLONIAL EMIGRATION FOR THE YEAR 1900.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 16th July 1901.

RESOLUTION—No. 2485.

READ—

The Annual Report on Emigration from the Port of Calcutta to British and Foreign Colonies for the year 1900.

Dr. C. Banks held the appointment of Protector of Emigrants throughout the year, excepting for the period from 6th July to 13th August, when his services were placed at the disposal of the Government of Bombay. During this period Captain D. Green, I.M.S., officiated. Instructions have been lately issued to the Protector which will result in lessening the length of his report in future.

Requisition and despatch of labour.

2. There were six agencies at work as in the previous year. There was an increase both in the demand and supply of labour during the year under report. Of the importing colonies Demerara still easily occupies the first position as regards the number needed. In the case of Natal the demand was less than half that of last year, whereas in Fiji it was more than double Mauritius, which had taken no labourers last year, started operations again this year. No labourers were required for Surinam.

Terms of engagement of intending emigrants.

3. The terms of agreement remained the same as in the preceding year, except those for the colony of Trinidad, in which two important alterations were made—(1) the period of service for female emigrants was reduced from five to three years, and (2) employers of labour are now required to provide rations for twelve instead of three months.

Recruiting operations.

4. Of the 1,088 licenses granted, 27 only were cancelled for misconduct, as against 801 licenses granted and 43 cancellations in the preceding year. A large increase is again noticed in the number of coolies recruited during the year, there being 18,489 as against 14,051 in 1899. Of these, 2½ per cent. were registered in Bengal, 9 per cent. in Bihar, 55 per cent. in the North-Western Provinces, and 26½ per cent. in Oudh, as against 5, 11, 54, and 29 per cent., respectively, in the previous year. The Protector observes that during 1900, after a lapse of several years, recruitment was again extended to the Punjab and the Central Provinces, where a total number of 1,360 coolies were registered. Emigration from the congested area of Bihar does not increase in popularity.

History of intending emigrants subsequent to registration.

5. During the year under review 19,003 emigrants passed through the sub-depôts, including 514, who had remained over at the end of the preceding year. Of this number, 3,199 did not proceed to Calcutta, 724 were rejected as unfit, 83 deserted, or left for other causes, so that 14,992 actually arrived in Calcutta. The Protector has, in accordance with the orders of Government, furnished figures showing the number of rejections by the agencies on account of unfitness for the years 1896 to 1900. Omitting last year the figures for the year under report are an improvement on those of former years, but they are still higher than might be expected if the examination previous to the emigrants despatch to Calcutta is carefully made. Orders have been passed that Emigration Agents should report to Government cases of rejection in which it appears that the cause of unfitness should have been detected by the medical officer who passed the labourer in the first instance. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that this will have the desired effect of reducing the serious inconvenience and loss of rejections at the final inspections in Calcutta.

Sanitation and management of depôts.

6. There was a slight increase in the cases of sickness and deaths, the largest number occurring in the depôts for the emigrants awaiting shipment to Demerara, Trinidad, Mauritius, and Fiji.

Embarkation of emigrants.

7. Of the 11,674 emigrants who embarked, 10,095 were Hindus and 1,575 Muhammadans. Of these 4,588 proceeded to Demerara, 1,878 to Trinidad, 670 to Jamaica, 1,753 to Mauritius, 481 to Natal, and 2,304 to Fiji. These 11,674 emigrants included 235 return emigrants. The steamers conveyed emigrants to Mauritius and Natal only, the ships proceeding to the other colonies. The death-rate on the whole appears to have been high, being 2·30 per cent. on these 15 sailing vessels as compared with 1·05 per cent. on 17 vessels in the preceding year.

Returned emigrants.

8. The number of emigrants who returned from the colonies was 3,147 as compared with 2,421 in 1899. There were 88 deaths, or 2·78 per cent., as compared with 52, or 2·12 per cent., in the previous year.

The largest number of emigrants, 1,145, returned from Demerara, with an aggregate saving of Rs. 1,59,730, or on an average of Rs. 139-8 per head. Trinidad comes next with a smaller number of returning emigrants, 720, and shows an average saving of Rs. 214 per head. The smallest number, 17, returned from Réunion without any savings. The all-round average saving per head was Rs. 165 as against Rs. 159 in the previous year. Of the total number of emigrants who returned to India, 1,727 brought back savings. Many of the remainder were dependents.

In accordance with the request made in the Resolution of last year, figures have been given showing for the last four years the average amount remitted by money-order by each resident immigrant. Judged by this return the immigrants of Natal are either much better off than those elsewhere or are very much more provident. There has been a remarkable increase in the remittances from this colony during the year under review. The same remark applies to the average savings of the immigrants of Natal, which is returned as £1-9-3 for 1899 as against 6*s.* 5*d.* in 1898. The Protector has given no return for Fiji: he should give it in future in view of the large increase of emigration to that colony.

Particulars of emigrants resident in the colonies.

9. On a comparison of the two sets of figures, viz., (a) average remittances, and (b) average estimated savings, for the year 1899, it will be seen that the colonies rank as follows for the year 1899:—(a) Natal, Trinidad, Mauritius, Jamaica, and Demerara, (b) Jamaica, Surinam, Natal, Fiji, Demerara, Trinidad, and Mauritius.

The colonies of Surinam, Réunion, and Guadeloupe do not exchange money-orders with this country.

Administration of estates.

10. There were 490 estates under administration during the year, valued at Rs. 53,479-13-6. Of these, 321, valued at Rs. 27,322, were finally disposed of, the sum of Rs. 20,473-1-9 having been paid in respect of 214 estates, and the balance, Rs. 6,848-14-3, at the credit of 107 estates, lapsed to the Indian and Colonial Governments concerned, owing, in some instances, to the absence of heirs and in others to inability to trace them from the incorrect descriptive particulars furnished by their emigrant relatives at the time of registration. Besides the final disposal of these 321 estates, heirs were traced in 62 estates, valued at Rs. 13,908-6-1, and that sum was in course of payment. Enquiries for heirs were therefore completed in 383 estates, or 78 per cent. of the total number under administration, as against 225, or 58 per cent., in 1899. There were thus, at the close of the year under report, 107 estates under enquiry, valued at Rs. 12,249-7-5, being 22 per cent. of the total number, as against 42 per cent. in the previous year, and the Lieutenant Governor concurs with the Protector in acknowledging, with pleasure, the valuable assistance rendered by District officers in tracing heirs of deceased emigrants.

Financial.

11. An increase of Rs. 5,094-14 was obtained in the receipts, which amounted to Rs. 33,207-14, while the expenditure decreased from Rs. 33,278-6-7 to Rs. 28,120-3-8, the year closing with a surplus of Rs. 5,087-10-4, as against deficits of Rs. 3,883-0-9 in 1897, Rs. 10,367-10-6 in 1898, and Rs. 5,165-6-7 in 1899.

12. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Banks for his efficient administration of the Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. A. SLACKE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1900-1901.

From—E. N. BAKER, Esq., C.S.I., Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Finl. Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Govt. of India, Revenue and Agricultural Dept.

I AM directed to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a copy of the Report on the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1900-1901, and to express the Lieutenant-Governor's satisfaction at the good work done by Major D. Prain, I.M.S., and his subordinates during the year.

No. 14G., dated Camp Darjeeling, the 30th April 1901.

From—MAJOR D. PRAIN, M.B., LL.D., F.R.S.E., I.M.S., Superintendent, Royal Botanic Garden, Sibpur,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the 114th Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1900-1901.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1900-1901.

THE weather conditions during the first half of the year under review were normal. In the middle of September a period of excessive rainfall set in which lasted till the 25th. The amount of rain registered during the week, from 19th to 25th September inclusive, was 40½ inches. The arrangements for the surface drainage of the Gardens, which, thanks to the disposition of the garden lakes and ponds, amply fulfil ordinary requirements proved inadequate to meet the needs of precipitation so phenomenal. The 6½ inches that fell on September 19th considerably raised the surface-level of the garden lakes, the 13⅛ inches of September 20th filled all but one of them to overflowing, and the 8¾ inches that fell on September 21st converted the whole of the western division of the Garden, which constitutes two-thirds of its area, into an almost unbroken sheet of water. Falls of about 4 inches daily on the 22nd and again on the 24th and 25th helped to maintain the abnormal water level in spite of all the efforts of the staff to drain it off. In the eastern section of the Garden normal conditions were reached before the end of the month and little damage was done by the flood. In the western half, however, it was not till ten days after the cessation of the storm that the lakes and ponds were again at their normal level, and many losses have unfortunately to be recorded. Fortunately little wind accompanied the storm and the damage due to trees being overthrown was confined almost entirely to three species—Dalbergia sissoo, the Sissoo tree, Manihot Glaziovii, the Ceara-rubber tree, and Broussonetia papyrifera, the paper mulberry; many examples of each fell, chiefly, apparently, from their own weight and owing to the sodden condition of the ground. The great damage to be recorded has been the death of many species as they stood. This has occurred not merely in the case of shrubs or herbs more or less covered with water during, and for a few days after, the storm, but largely also in the case of trees, many of them of large size and of considerable age, that stood during this time with only the bases of their stems submerged. The majority of the species that have died were, as might be expected, strangers to the Gangetic delta; many of them, as will be readily understood, it will be difficult to replace. As the question of liability to inundation, and the power of a given species to withstand its effects, is one of practical interest to those engaged in agriculture and horticulture and to those charged with the duty of planting shade-trees on roadsides, it may not be without use to record here a few of the observations made during and after the September floods in these gardens. For convenience of reference, a list of the species that have died is added as a special Appendix to this report.

The majority of the species that have succumbed did so immediately. Nothing seemed the matter while the storm lasted. As soon, however, as the rain ceased and they were exposed to sunshine, their leaves wilted, and the plants at once were seen to be very sickly or quite dead. This was particularly the case with many herbs and shrubs—natives of all tropical countries, and even with some trees—the latter mostly American or African species. With a small number of the species whose leaves thus wilted and fell, the result has not been the death of the plant. This has been notably the case with the rhea plant, Boehmeria nivea; all the plants of this species lost their leaves immediately after the storm, but, while a small percentage have died off completely, the majority have survived, though it was not till early March that they showed signs of recovery. It is of practical interest, moreover, to note that, while this has also been the case with some plots of indigo of the Indian kind (Indigofera tinctoria) and with a plot of Guatemala indigo (Indigofera oligosperma) two plots of Indigofera raised from Natal and from Java seed respectively, came by no harm. Another practical point may also be noted. It is generally understood that the sisal hemp plant (Agave rigida var. Sisalana) is at a disadvantage as compared with the Agave commonly planted along Indian roadsides, in that the former does not endure being flooded, while the latter is unaffected by inundation. In the present instance both species were equally unaffected by the inundation.

While, however, many species succumbed immediately, it was found that nearly as many, though fortunately not so many individuals of each, did not die at once, but did so ultimately. These were mainly trees—and mainly Indian or Burmese ones—natives of naturally drier regions than Bengal. Within this group, moreover, an interesting difference has been observed in the behaviour of evergreen as compared with deciduous species. The former, when they have died, showed signs of distress with the advent of the cold season, their leaves wilting gradually, and in a fortnight or so becoming sere and yellow. With deciduous trees on the other hand, there was nothing to show that the roots had been damaged by the floods. The leaves remained on the trees till the natural time for their being shed, and it has only been on examination, induced by the fact that no flowers or new leaves have appeared, that the individual was found to have died. The chief outdoor improvements of the year have been the repair of the Northern or "Amherstia" section of the Thomson avenue and the realignment of the Kurz avenue. A commencement has also been made with the task of continuing the Kurz avenue in the direction of the Banyan tree. This much needed improvement will complete the road system in the northern section of the Garden.

2. Economic Plants.—The usual attention has been given by the Garden staff to the propagation and distribution of useful plants throughout the year. In view of the interest that is being manifested in fibre-yielding species, especially in the Agaves, steps have been taken to increase the stock of those available for distribution. Particular attention was paid to the behaviour under cultivation of certain non-Indian Indigoferas as compared with the Indian Indigo plant, Indigofera tinctoria. A representative collection of the various Indian yams was brought together by the Department of the Reporter on Economic Products; the plants were cultivated in the Garden and as far as possible determined. A complete report on this interesting subject cannot yet be submitted as several of the kinds, and particularly those most commonly found under cultivation, did not flower and so could not be definitely identified. Their cultivation will be continued till this happens. A question having arisen as to the source of the seeds known as "Chaulmoogra" largely used in native medicine and now attracting considerable attention in Europe, an endeavour was made to settle the point. The seeds in question have usually been attributed to the species known as Gynocardia odorata. Having satisfied himself that this opinion is erroneous, the Superintendent invoked the assistance of Dr. Watt, Reporter on Economic Products, to clear up the point. Thanks to Dr. Watt's exertions, the matter has now been definitely settled. The seeds known as Chaulmoogra are not those of the tree known by that name, but of the species known as Taraktogenos Kurzii. Thanks to the assistance afforded by the Inspector-General of Forests, it has been possible also to finally settle the obscure question as to the source of the timber known as Padouk. This timber has been generally supposed to be yielded by Pterocarpus indicus. It now transpires that Pterocarpus indicus is not an indigenous tree within the limits of the Indian Empire. The true or Burma Padouk is the timber of Pterocarpus macrocarpus, a species that occurs only in Burma. Andaman Padouk or Andaman Red-wood is the timber of Pterocarpus dalbergioides, a species that is found in a wild state only in the Andamans. The use as a fodder-grass of Paspalum dilatatum, a native of America, which has proved very valuable in Australia owing to its drought-resisting qualities, has led to its introduction to India on as large a scale as possible. Finding that very little seed could be spared by Australian correspondents of the Garden, the assistance of the Agrostologist to the Department of Agriculture of the United States was invoked. Thanks to the kind help of that officer, a large supply of the seed of this grass was obtained from America and has been freely distributed throughout India.

3. Herbarium.—The work of this department has gone on as usual. The number of named specimens distributed to other botanical institutions has been 11,903. The details of this distribution are given in Appendix VI to this report. The work of collecting in Assam by native agency came to an end early in the year owing to the illness of the Collector, Munshi Abdul Huq, who unfortunately succumbed to the fever by which he had been attacked in the performance of his duties, shortly after his return. Dr. A. G. Bourne, F.R.S., on the occasion of a visit paid by him to Assam, most kindly supervised the work of a collector specially deputed to obtain specimens of the grasses of Assam. During the cold weather Mr. N. Gill, Assistant Curator of the Garden, made a very interesting and valuable collection in a portion of Assam not previously explored botanically, but now rendered accessible by the extension of the Bengal-Assam Railway system. In Burma at the commencement of the year another native collector was engaged in the Kachin Hills. This collector had to be recalled and was subsequently sent to Tenasserim, with the object of working under and in co-operation with the officers of the Forest Department there. The arrangement, however, does not promise to be wholly successful. In the Andamans the work of collecting has again been very thoroughly supervised on behalf of the Garden by Mr. E. H. Man, C.I.E., in whose retirement after 32 years' service this institution loses one of the most generous and sympathetic benefactors it has ever known. In Bengal, collection was supervised in Sikkim by the Superintendent during his deputations to the Cinchona Plantation. The contributed collections have again been of much interest and value. The chief contributions came from the Royal Herbarium, Berlin, 1,056 specimens; the Botanic Garden at Singapore, 885 specimens; the Cantonal Museum of Fribourg, 318 specimens; the University of Munich, 296 specimens; Harvard University, 240 specimens; the Hof. Museum, Vienna, 205 specimens. Smaller but very valuable collections were also received from Sir W. T. Thiselton-Dyer, K.C.M.G., Director of the Royal Gardens, Kew; Mr. Medley Wood, Natal; Mr. H. Bolus, Capetown; Mr. Barbey, Boissier, Geneva; Dr. Treub, Buitenzorg; and Mr. C. Curtis, Penang. The chief Indian contributors during the year have been Mr. J. F. Duthie, who has presented 1,052 specimens; Mr. R. L. Heinig, 435 specimens; Messrs. Ryan, Bourdillon and Haines who have sent 57, 56 and 54 respectively.

Sir George King, K.C.I.E., has been engaged at Kew during the past year in elaborating an account of the Malayan Myrtaceae. Thanks are again due to him for kindly naming the specimens belonging to the Calcutta Herbarium and assisting in distributing the duplicates.

4. Library.—A considerable number of books have been acquired by gift, by purchase, and in exchange. The customary periodicals have been added. Steady progress is being made by Lieutenant Gage with the heavy task of rearranging the collection.

5. Botanical Publications.—During the year the eleventh part of Sir George King's Materials for a Flora of the Malayan Peninsula has been issued and the manuscript of the twelfth part completed. The following papers have been published by the Superintendent:—(1) Novitiæ Indicae XVII; Some new plants from Eastern India; (2) A list of the Asiatic species of Ormosia, and (3)

Description of a new Himalayan genus of Orobanchaceæ, all three in the Asiatic Society's Journal, the last written in conjunction with Mr. J. S. Gamble, F.R.S. To the Indian Forester the Superintendent has also contributed three other papers; (4) A new Burmese Timber-Tree; (5) Report on the Indian Species of Pterocarpus; and (6) A new Assam Timber-Tree. To the Scientific Memoirs, edited by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, he has contributed a paper (7) On the characters and relationships of Afzelia, Smith. Lieutenant Gage, Curator of the Herbarium, has prepared a very valuable report on the diseases of Sugar-cane in Bengal for the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal (Bulletin No. 7, 1900, Department of Land Records and Agriculture), and has contributed a paper, entitled the Anatomy of the roots of Phœnix paludosa Roxb., to the Scientific Memoirs by Medical Officers of the Army of India. The manuscript of Annals of the Royal Botanic Garden, vol. IX, part I, was completed and sent to press in November 1900, and it is hoped that it may be issued shortly after the close of the year under review. This part consists of Descriptions of a Second Century of new and rare Indian plants and has been prepared conjointly by Sir George King, K.C.I.E., F.R.S., Mr. J F. Duthie, F.L.S., Director of the Botanical Department, Northern India, and the Superintendent.

6. Interchange of seeds and plants.—The receipts and issues of plants and seeds are fully detailed in Appendices I—IV. The number of plants distributed was 39,300, a reversion to what may be looked on as the normal distribution. The demand for rhea, which led to the greatly increased figures of last year, has fallen off; those interested in the cultivation of this plant having now in most cases become provided with an ample stock of plants. The number of plants received was 14,454. The number of packets of seeds received reached 1,618, a considerable increase as compared with 1899-1900. The number of packets distributed was 5,670.

7. Lloyd Botanic Garden.—Great progress has been made with the laying out of the piece of ground which formerly constituted the municipal vegetable garden. The scheme underlying the arrangement of the new portion is to make its contents as representative as possible of the indigenous flora of the Himalayas at and about the level at which Darjeeling is situated, leaving the original garden as far as possible, as it at present stands, a place in which exotic species capable of thriving at the altitude can be grown. During the year two hailstorms, one of exceptional severity, passed over the station of Darjeeling and did much damage to the Lloyd Garden; most of it, however, was fortunately of a temporary nature. The revetment work rendered necessary by the great storm of September 1899 has practically been completed, to the satisfaction of the authorities entrusted with the care of slopes and hillsides within the municipality.

8. The money allotted for contingencies for the Royal Botanic Garden has been spent in full. A saving of Rs 827-6-4 has been effected under the allotment for establishment. The corresponding allotments for the Lloyd Botanic Garden have been spent almost in full, the unspent balance amounting only to Rs. 10-5-5. The revenues from the Royal Botanic Garden of Rs. 489-4 and from the Lloyd Botanic Garden Rs. 880 have been paid into the treasuries at Calcutta and Darjeeling respectively.

9. During the year the gardens have been visited, among other distinguished strangers, by M. Prud'homme, Director of the Agricultural Department, Madagascar, and by Dr. F. Stuhlmann, Director of the corresponding Department, German East Africa. One consequence of these visits has been that arrangements have been made for the establishment of exchanges calculated to benefit this Institution as well as the Colonies on whose behalf these officers were deputed to visit it. The gardens were also visited by Prof. W. Ramsay, F.R.S., on behalf of the scheme for the establishment of a Research University in India, on the advisability of which Prof. Ramsay had been invited to report. The importance of providing this Institution with a well-equipped laboratory for research does not require to be insisted on, and the subject has accordingly been already brought to the notice of Government.

10. The Superintendent was in charge of his post throughout the year. Mr. Gage, the Curator of the Herbarium, has worked very enthusiastically throughout the year, and in addition to the unremitting attention given by him to his proper duties has devoted much of his spare time to a thorough investigation of the diseases affecting sugarcane in Bengal on which he has submitted a full and valuable report to the Director of Land Records and Agriculture. Mr. G. T. Lane, Curator of the Garden, has also worked well. When the year opened the posts of Assistant Curator and of Probationer Gardener were both vacant, the former owing to the deputation of the Assistant Curator at the Cinchona Plantation, the latter owing to the appointment of the Probationer Gardener, who was acting as Assistant Curator, to be Superintendent of Public Gardens at Agra. Mr. N. Gill, selected by the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State as Probationer Gardener, and who reported his arrival from England on 2nd April 1900, was therefore appointed Assistant Curator with effect from 3rd April 1900. Mr. H. F. Green, appointed Probationer Gardener by the Secretary of State in succession to Mr. Gill, reported his arrival in India on 18th May 1900, and was posted on 22nd May 1900 to the Cinchona Plantation to fill a temporary vacancy on the staff of assistants there.

CHOTA NAGPUR.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1901.

WEATHER during the past month has been exceptional, for the season of the year, in many noticeable respects, not only over the Bay, but also in Bengal. In any description of atmospheric conditions for June, the first place is necessarily given to a consideration of the marked changes which accompany the commencement of the south-west monsoon season—changes which occur with more or less regularity and rapidity in the second or third week of the month. The rapidity with which the change takes place and becomes general over the Province depends upon the severity of the disturbance with which its progress is associated. In the present year the most marked feature of the general weather conditions has been the almost complete absence of the usual cyclonic storm.

In the second week a very slight depression moved northwards over the Bay and entered Bengal Proper. There immediately followed a rapid fall of pressure over the Province, more especially in the north, and a steep pressure gradient in the north of the Bay which caused strong south-westerly winds over the north of the Bay and the usual inrush of moist air from the Bay over the land. From that time, that is from about the 11th, ordinary monsoon weather was established in Assam and the eastern parts of Bengal. But from some cause yet to be determined and probably connected with the higher atmospheric currents, the shallow depression did not follow the usual course to the west, and the rainfall was very unequally distributed.

In a table which follows, it is shown that East Bengal received 42 per cent. in excess of the normal amount for June, North Bengal a small excess, while in all other parts of the Province there was defect increasing towards the west and very large in Bihar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa. In Assam there was on an average about a normal fall Subsequent to the 11th, when rainfall became general in the extreme east, the boundary of the rainfall area underwent occasional oscillations from east to west, due to the pressure distribution becoming more favourable for easterly winds over the Province In consequence, though the monsoon was not established in the central or western districts at the end of the month, short periods of cloudy rainy weather occurred chiefly in the central districts and in the extreme north of Bihar.

Owing to the continued westerly winds in the western districts and the frequent absence of cloud and rain, unusually high temperatures prevailed, so that throughout the latter half of the month a most marked contrast was shown between weather conditions in the west and in the east. In the former maximum temperatures were continuously above 100°, the highest being 116° 5 at Dehri, 115°·5 at Daltonganj and Purulia, 114° at Raniganj and 112° 5 at Orissa. Minimum readings were also above the normal, and the averages for the month differ considerably from the normal owing to the exceptional weather experienced during the latter half. The mean excess in Chota Nagpur was 5°, Orissa 3°·6, Bihar 2°·5, and in South-West Bengal 1°·1, while in North and East Bengal and Assam mean temperature was practically normal, the greatest variation being defect of half a degree in the last.

The main features therefore were showery weather in the east during the early part of the month, and after the 11th general and at times heavy rain; in the central districts, chiefly hot weather conditions, though latterly with more cloud than usually forms in the hot season and brief periods of general rainfall; in the west extremely hot weather with dry westerly winds and very little rainfall.

It is not only in the main features that an exceptional character is apparent, but even in the daily changes. In the early part of the month a slight disturbance was causing local storms over the Province, and that disturbance would in ordinary conditions have moved westward. Instead the brisk fall of pressure which indicated its progress moved southwards along the west coast and gave rise to a diffused low pressure area in the extreme south. Whether that was the cause of the slight depression which a few days afterwards moved northwards towards East Bengal is not indicated by the coast observations, but the brief interval between the two series of changes makes it not improbable. What prevented the former disturbance from moving westward was probably also the cause of the latter undergoing so little development, that on reaching East Bengal on the 8th the depression was only faintly indicated by the pressure differences and the wind circulation.

Though the depression which entered the east of the Province on the 8th was so slight, it was followed by important changes during the succeeding days. Pressure fell rapidly inland, and rose briskly in the south, so that the pressure gradient became much steeper, and the strongest winds of the month were experienced in the north of the Bay between the 10th and 13th some time after all sign of any cyclonic disturbance had ceased. On the 9th and 10th the average velocity of the wind at Gopalpur was 30 miles an hour, and on the 12th at Saugor Island it was 35 miles.

Moderately strong winds were reported from the Burma coast from the 6th, and fairly heavy rainfall occurred at eastern stations, though it was far from general. On the 10th heavy rain fell at Tavoy, and on the 11th Tavoy, Diamond Island, Bassein and Akyab all reported heavy falls. Then on the 13th general rain fell over the whole of Bengal Proper. This burst of rain was what would in ordinary years have formed the commencement of the monsoon season, and it differed from the usual occurrence in the rainfall being confined to Bengal Proper.

The chief cause of the comparative absence of rain in Orissa and Chota Nagpur has been the non-occurrence of cyclonic storms over the Bay. The almost invariable course for these storms in ordinary years is north-westward across Orissa and the south of Chota Nagpur, and during their passage heavy rain usually falls. In the present year south-westerly land winds have prevailed, and only scattered light showers such as fall in the hot weather months have been received.

As already stated, general rainfall began in Bengal Proper on the 13th. At that time pressure was rising very rapidly, especially in the west of the Province, and on the 15th the variation from the normal ranged from excess of ·07 inch in the western districts to defect of about the same amount in Burma. The tendency therefore was for the humid air from the Bay to flow towards Burma. But on the 16th a rapid fall of pressure occurred, a slight depression formed over Lower Bengal, and general rainfall recommenced in the eastern districts, extending over the whole of Bengal Proper on the following day.

Of the meteorological statistics nothing shows more clearly the progress of the establishment of the monsoon than the daily mean temperature and its variation from the normal. On the 17th mean temperature was in moderate excess in both Bengal and Assam; on the 18th, when the rainfall had become more general, the variation ranged from excess of 6° in the west to defect of 1° in the east, and this arrangement continued till the 22nd, when rainfall increased in amount in Bengal Proper and extended westward over Bihar. On that date the variation from the normal in mean temperature ranged from excess of 8° in Chota Nagpur to defect of 6° in part of East and North Bengal. This contrast in temperature conditions continued with small modifications till the end of the month, showing that though easterly winds were not uncommon in Bihar and the general wind circulation was not to any great extent dissimilar from what is usual in the latter half of June, monsoon conditions had not penetrated to the west of the Province.

Pressure.—As in May no cyclonic disturbance of any magnitude occurred in June, and consequently none of the large oscillations of pressure which accompany the development and advance of cyclonic storms have been recorded. But considerable changes have occurred from time to time over the Province and have materially modified the pressure distribution inland and over the north of the Bay. It is much more difficult to account for such changes, as they may have been due to the large differences of temperature in the west as compared with the east of the Province, or they may have been transmitted rapidly from a distance. The immediate effect was on several occasions to cause strong winds to develop in the north-west angle of the Bay.

As in May the oscillations generally neutralised one another in the means for the month. But a small excess in the south-west of the Bay and the small defect in the east show that there was on the whole some influence from the pressure distribution in causing the concentration of monsoon conditions over the eastern districts. Pressure, however, on an average for the month was equally low in Bihar; and as there was a defect in Chota Nagpur also, the variations from the normal are far short of fully accounting for the exceptional weather conditions prevailing in the western districts during the latter half of the month.

Defect in Lower Bengal was about ·02 inch in North Bengal and Bihar ·03 inch and in Chota Nagpur ·01 inch.

Temperature was throughout the month above the normal for the season in the western districts, and at times the excess was exceptionally large. In the east, owing to the frequent rainfall, comparatively cool weather was prevalent. As usually happens when temperature conditions of the above character with so marked a contrast obtain over a limited area, oscillations occur; the high temperature at times extended eastward over the central districts, and was followed by a rapid fall when rain became more general. The variation, therefore, from the normal for the month is not large, except in the western districts, where the hot weather conditions were almost without interruption.

The average maximum temperature for the whole month was 7° to 8° above the normal in Chota Nagpur and Orissa, 7° above in the west of South Bihar, 2° to 4° above in South-West Bengal and Bihar and 1° below over a considerable portion of East Bengal and Assam. Minimum temperature variations were smaller and ranged from excess of 4° in the west to a small defect in the east.

The mean excess for Chota Nagpur was 5°, Orissa 3°·6, Bihar, chiefly owing to the high temperatures in the west, 2°·5, South West Bengal 1°·1 and East Bengal less than half a degree. In North Bengal and Assam there was a small defect.

Rainfall as already stated was very deficient in the west of the Province owing to the failure of the monsoon and the almost complete absence of rain during the latter half of the month. In the central districts showery weather was fairly frequent and general rainfall occurred occasionally, while in the east monsoon conditions were early established and rain in considerable to large excess was received. In East Bengal on an average 23·7 inches fell, or 7 inches more than the normal amount, and in North Bengal 18·4 inches, or 1·1 inches excess. In South-West Bengal there was a moderate defect of 2 inches. In Bihar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa less than half and in some cases less than a third of the normal amount fell.

Defect at separate stations was much more irregular than usual, but generally over a great part of Orissa, Chota Nagpur and the west of South Bihar, it was between 5 and 7 inches. In part of North Bengal and the east of North Bihar there was an area of deficient rainfall by 5 to 10 inches. In Bihar especially the rainfall distribution was irregular, as the variation ranged from defect of 10 inches in the east to excess of 1·5 in the Champaran district.

Proceeding eastward across the central districts, the variation changes within a small area from defect of 7 inches to excess of 5 to 10 inches. In South-West Bengal the variation was comparatively small, but generally there was defect. The line of separation of the area of deficient rainfall from that of excess rainfall in the east runs almost north and south from Sikkim to the east of the Sunderbans, with a deflection to the west in the central districts. To the east of this line excess was generally between 1 and 5 inches, except to the east of the Megna and Brahmaputra, where excess was between 5 and 10 inches and over a limited area between 10 and 20 inches.

These variations are so irregular from place to place that for more information than is included in a general description, reference must be made to the accompanying tables.

The following table gives a condensed view of the rainfall of the various Divisions of Bengal in June, and in each of the previous months of the present year, as compared with the normal values for the same periods. The figures given represent the actual falls expressed as percentages of the normal falls :—

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of June in all districts in the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal district rainfall as determined from the rainfall records of the past 25 years; the second column the district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in the district; the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal as a percentage, while the fourth gives the percentage variation or the difference of column 3 from 100 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86. formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast ; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain ; p, passing temporary showers.

J. S. SLATER,
Offg. Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

Prospectus for Admission.

THIS School is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors: it owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The School was formally opened on the 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60, of whom only 15 can be other than Biharis by race (viz., natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar); but should the number of suitable applicants who are Biharis by race be insufficient to fill up the 45 vacancies, then the vacancies thus occurring can be given to those applicants who are natives of the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, or Bengalis domiciled in Bihar, in that order.

3. The School, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

(1) A sound study of Elementary Mathematics.

(2) Careful training in Survey work.

(3) Drawing, both Freehand and Engineering.

(4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings.

(5) Workshop practice, with hand tools and with machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings have now been completed; and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this School, who must be a Bihari by race.

4. The session commenced on 2nd July 1901.

5. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re. 1-8. All scholarship-holders, however, receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs. 7 a month, tenable for one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent. of them are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, must be Biharis by race or domicile, or natives of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below :—

(1) The Entrance Examination of an Indian University, in English and Mathematics.

(2) Standard VII of the Code of European Schools.

(3) Students who have not passed either of these tests, and who are otherwise eligible, will have to pass an examination in English and Mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 8th and 9th July, respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M. each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal at once. Their application must give the following particulars:—

(a) Name, address, and occupation of father or guardian.

(b) Race and religion, and evidence to show that he is either a Bihari or a native of the North-Western Provinces or Central Provinces, or a domiciled Bengali.

(c) A certificate of good moral character.

(d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age).

(e) A medical certificate, showing him to be fit for employment in the public service.
